

Iconic is never an accident.

Introducing: Masterpiece

A Masterpiece frame is entirely different from other carbon frames. It demands superior skillsets and the most advanced tools. This is a level of manufacturing excellence that only a few Masters can deliver.

It takes too long to make each one.

We can't make very many.

They will be too expensive.

It's unnecessary.

But we can.

Introducing Teammachine R Mpc.

A close-up, low-key photograph of a bicycle frame, focusing on the head tube and fork area. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting the metallic textures and the precision of the welding. The background is dark and out of focus.

“Shedding over 10% of the weight from an already ultralight frame is nothing short of remarkable. Maintaining all those other critical factors for maximum speed at the same elite level? That’s nearly miraculous.

Without doubt, Teammachine R Mpc. is the ultimate race bike.”

Stefan Christ - Head of R&D BMC Switzerland

The Teammachine R Mpc redefines the standard for both performance and perfection, setting a new benchmark for what a racing machine can achieve.

Leveraging Red Bull Advanced Technologies aerodynamic expertise, BMC engineers refined the design to create the most advanced race bike yet. Combining Formula 1 technology with Swiss precision, it's a masterpiece of uncompromised performance. Teammachine R Mpc. elevates this further.

Teammachine SLR Mpc.

Ride a Masterpiece.

“If conquering high mountain passes is your goal, the Teammachine SLR Mpc. gives you an unmatched climbing edge. It’s ultralight frame isn’t where it ends, it’s also built for stiffness, for when gradients grow and explosivity matters. What truly sets it apart though, is the precise steering and control on fast, technical descents, where most lightweight bikes fall short, but, what the Teammachine SLR Mpc. is renowned for.”
